1. Scope of the PSEA Policy

Humanitarian aid workers are expected to uphold the highest standards of personal and professional conduct at all times to protect beneficiaries of assistance<sup>1</sup>. Sexual exploitation and abuse (SEA) by humanitarian aid workers directly contradicts the principles upon which humanitarian action is based and represents a protection failure on the part of the aid community. SEA inflicts harm on those whom the humanitarian community is obligated to protect, as well as jeopardizes the credibility of all assistance agencies.

All Cesvi employees and related personnel are required to behave irreproachably with the project beneficiaries or members of the community, using particular care with the most vulnerable classes: minors, women, the elderly and social outcasts.<sup>2</sup> Cesvi commits to create a zero-tolerance organizational culture against complacency and impunity. Cesvi Management, among the others, is expected to create and maintain an environment that prevents sexual exploitation and abuse. Cesvi management staff must be familiar with and enforce this policy, being proactive in overseeing their team.

Through the Protection from Sexual Exploitation and Abuse Policy, Cesvi clearly expresses its determination to prevent and combat sexual exploitation and abuse of beneficiaries and members of the community by Cesvi employee and all related personnel.

Cesvi SEA policy sets minimum standards to be followed to protect beneficiaries and members of the community from sexual exploitation and abuse.

- ❖ Board of Directors and Cesvi Management;
- ❖ All the employees and collaborators in all Cesvi structures and projects in Italy and abroad;
- ❖ Non Cesvi entities and their employees and individuals who have entered into partnership, sub-grant or sub-recipients agreement with Cesvi, committees, associations of any sort – including their members and staff – supported, financially or otherwise, by Cesvi in Italy and abroad;
- ❖ Consultants and other freelance persons who act on behalf of Cesvi on the basis of service contracts (understood as consultants and providers of intellectual services);
- ❖ all persons acting voluntarily on behalf of Cesvi;
- ❖ Suppliers of any sort of goods, services, or works, including current and potential suppliers.
- ❖ All the other people not included in the above mentioned categories who have signed a contract with Cesvi.

The principles set forth in this policy apply all times, during and outside the office hours and during the periods of leave, with no exceptions.

2. Policy statement

3. Core Principles <sup>3</sup>

1. Sexual exploitation and abuse by Cesvi employee and related personnel constitute acts of gross misconduct and are therefore grounds for disciplinary actions and/or termination of employment contract within the applicable and current regulations;
2. Sexual activity with children (persons under the age of 18) is prohibited regardless of the age of majority or age of consent locally. Mistaken belief regarding the age of a child is not a defense and in no way shall ignorance of the age of the person be accepted as a justification. A specific Children Safeguarding Policy further set the principles and the operationalizing procedures and guidelines for guaranteeing children safeguarding in all domains of Cesvi action;<sup>4</sup>
3. Exchange of money, employment, goods, or services for sex, including sexual favors or other forms of humiliating, degrading or exploitative behavior is prohibited. This includes exchange of assistance that is due to beneficiaries;
4. Sexual relationships between Cesvi staff and beneficiaries and members of the community are strongly discouraged since they are based on inherently unequal power dynamics. Such relationships undermine the credibility and integrity of the Humanitarian aid work;
5. Where Cesvi employee and related personnel develops concerns or suspicions regarding sexual abuse or by a fellow worker, whether the individual works for Cesvi or for other organization, partners, suppliers or other related stakeholders, he or she must report such concerns through the means and tools available within the Organization.<sup>5</sup> The Supervisory Body must be informed about all the concerns and suspicions, including rumors in good faith arisen about sexual exploitation and abuse;<sup>6</sup>
6. All Cesvi staff members, whatever their levels are obliged to create and maintain an environment that prevent sexual exploitation and abuse and promotes the implementation of the Code of conduct and Ethical Code.

When appropriate, Cesvi ensures to report for criminal prosecution and legal action to the competent authority in accordance with the applicable law and evaluates to take out proceedings as a civil damaged party.

Definitions

SEA Sexual Exploitation and Abuse: Particular forms of gender-based violence that have been reported in humanitarian contexts, specifically alleged against humanitarian workers.

Sexual Exploitation: “Any actual or attempted abuse of a position of vulnerability, differential power, or trust, for sexual purposes, including, but not limited to, profiting monetarily, socially or politically from the sexual exploitation of another Sexual Abuse: “The actual or threatened physical intrusion of a sexual nature, whether by force or under unequal or coercive conditions.

Sexual Harassment versus SEA: SEA occurs against a beneficiary or member of the community. Sexual harassment occurs between personnel/staff, and involves any unwelcome sexual advance or unwanted verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature. Sexual harassment is not covered by SEA

Survivor: A person who has SEA perpetrated against him/her or an attempt to perpetrate SEA against him/her.<sup>8</sup> For the purposes of these SOPs, persons who report SEA committed against themselves are treated as survivors for the purposes of security and needs assessments

Supervisory Body: the Supervisory Body, as it is defined in the Control, Management, Organization Model, elected in accordance with the 231/2001 Legislative Decree

Code of Conduct: A set of standards of behavior that staff of an organization are obliged to adhere to.

Beneficiaries of Humanitarian Assistance: A person who receives assistance as part of either emergency relief or development aid through assistance programmers. Persons under this title include members of affected populations including refugees, internally displaced persons and other vulnerable individuals, as well as host community members. Sexual exploitation or abuse of a beneficiary is SEA, however the individual need not be in a vulnerable position; a differential power or trust relationship is sufficient to establish SEA.

Humanitarian Aid Worker: all persons involved in providing protection and/or assistance to affected populations and who have a contractual relationship with the participating organization/partners, including incentive workers<sup>9</sup> from target communities. It refers to all staff of humanitarian agencies and organizations, including UN agencies, IGOs, NGOs, implementing partners, including paid staff, volunteers, contractors, incentive workers, and anyone performing a task on behalf of any humanitarian agency or organization, regardless of the type or duration of their contract.<sup>10</sup>

Relate personnel: all employees of Cesvi, Cesvi Members, affiliates and collaborator in Country Offices. The term also includes board members, volunteers, interns, and international and local consultants, in addition to individual and corporate contractors of these entities and related personnel. This includes non-Cesvi entities and their employees and individuals who have entered into partnership, sub-grant or sub-recipient agreements with Cesvi.

Complainant: a person who brings an allegation of SEA to the CBCM in accordance with established procedures. This person may be an SEA survivor or another person who is aware of the wrongdoing. Both the <sup>8</sup> The person who is, or has been, sexually exploited or abused. This term implies strength, resilience, and the capacity to survive. “The terms ‘victim’ and ‘survivor’ can be used interchangeably. ‘Victim’ is a term often used in the legal and medical sectors, while the term ‘survivor’ is generally preferred in the psychological and social support sectors because it implies resiliency.” See Inter-Agency Standing Committee’s Task Force on Protection from Sexual Exploitation and Abuse, “Guidelines to implement the Minimum Operating Standards for Protection from Sexual Exploitation and Abuse by UN and non-UN Personnel” (March 2013) [hereinafter IASC Guidelines to Implement the MOS-PSEA (2013)], and IASC GBV Guidelines (2015), Part I - Introduction p. 1.

<sup>9</sup> Incentive workers are individuals who receive non-monetary compensation for work or representation for an organization, and are frequently members of the beneficiary community. See the Sexual Exploitation and Abuse Glossary at www.interaction.org/document/sea-glossary.

survivor and the complainant, if different from the survivor, should be protected from retaliation for reporting SEA. Where there is any conflict of interest between the survivor and another interested party, the survivor's wishes must be the principle consideration in case handling, particularly when there is a risk of additional physical and/or emotional harm.

Whistleblower: For the purposes of SEA Policy a whistleblower is a type of complainant, not the survivor, who is a humanitarian aid worker making a report of SEA. Organizational whistleblowing policies encourage staff to report concerns or suspicions of misconduct by colleagues by offering protection from retaliation for reporting, and clarify the rules and procedures for reporting and addressing such cases. Therefore, the definition, scope, and protection measures may differ between organizations. CHM principles (e.g. confidentiality) apply to whistleblowers as they would to any complainant, and internal agency policies shall protect whistleblowers on SEA from retaliation, so long as the report is made in good faith and in compliance with internal agency policies.
